

Company Law Committee – Vacancies

The City of London Law Society (CLLS) Company Law Committee is seeking applications from prospective new members in response to the current workload and activities of the Committee. Applications are welcomed from those who are members (which also includes affiliates) of the CLLS either individually or as part of a CLLS Corporate Member firm and who are at partner level or equivalent.

Applicants should be enthusiastic about the opportunity to contribute to the work of the Committee and be able to commit enough time to participate fully in its work, including participating in working groups, assisting with the production of written materials (including responses to consultation papers) and attending regular meetings (whether online or in person). Applicants must also be experienced practitioners in the sphere of company law. Given the current focus on changes to law and practice in the areas of corporate reporting and corporate governance, ESG and digitalisation, an interest in some or all of those issues would be advantageous.

To apply, please contact the Chair, David Pudge, at Clifford Chance LLP, by email at david.pudge@cliffordchance.com by the end of Friday 17 February 2023.

When applying, please send a CV or similar background materials and give an indication of your main areas of interest in the work of the Committee.

Copies of the responses to consultation papers published by the Committee and copies of the minutes of the meetings of the Committee are available on the CLLS website and provide an insight into the work of the Committee.

The CLLS is committed to the principles of equality, diversity and inclusion, and welcomes applications from all members of the profession irrespective of age, disability, gender, race, religion or sexual orientation.
